Ad Hoc Diversity Committee
Deliberation Topic Diversity:
Possible Ad Hoc Committee
Formation?

Issues related to diversity

- x No longer a Diversity Coordinator. Jean Griffin was the coordinator. Some of Jean's former charges could be handled by a standing faculty senate committee. This is the motivation for the discussion. Duties include support to departments when hiring, Tilford fellowship and determining whether courses qualify as having a diversity component.
- x What is Faculty role versus an Administrative role? Senators voiced their opinions that these charges, particularly regarding curriculum, should be the faculty's purview. Q: How many proposals did Jean review per year? A: 15 to 20 and none were denied. Learning objectives are listed on the qualifications for a Tilford Certificate. Q (to Jean) What are common hiring mistakes with respect to diversity that are made by search committees? A: Committees will write and publish their ads before they really know what they need with respect to attracting diverse candidates. Another mistake is putting too much emphasis on committee It was stated that it would be important to have somebody who was recently hired to provide the perspective of someone recently “on the market”.

As May Arise	Jeff Pulaski– applauds university for being tobacco free campus but noted that there are still people smoking at various locations. Felt the university should send a more consistent message. Discussion centered around inconsistency on messaging. – Names were gathered for establishment of a discussion group Jeff P., Stephanie Nicks, Peer Moulens and Susan Castro expressed interest. Jeff offered to organize the first meeting. General Counsel thought representative from their office would be helpful, as well as including SGA since they helped facilitate the original policy change. Another person noted someone from the Office of Diversity be included.
